

Tom Marcellis Band

BAND STORY

"Known for their dynamic and energizing live performances, the Tom Marcellis Band is one of the best up and coming acts in the country. They are currently in the studio recording the follow up to their very successful debut album.

The new album (yet to be named) is expected to hit the shelves in the fourth quarter of 2007 and also features some surprise guests.

The Tom Marcellis Band will be performing a series of club, theater and festival dates in support of their up coming release including stops in
