BAND STORY

"i finally get my chance to shine....as a artist that takes what life has to offer and spits reality into the ears of those that chose to expand their visions,i feel as though my lifes journey has just started.im here to rep for those that are with me and make all those that didnt believe in my crusade acknowledge that im a threat to this business.if you want to hear about cars that i dont have,murders that i didnt commit and how i floss on the daily then you have logged on to the wrong site.i spit what i know about and put you in the perspective of being there when it goes down.i got into this game to bring what its lacking.it started with a dream and slowly developed into a record companies nightmare!!hate all you want but im here now and aint going nowhere.my destiny is your demise.hiphop is a universal language so if you get into this game try your best to leave a legacy,push the boundries and your bound to get noticed,were on the verge of something big so lets build and destroy!!!
